Washington, DC – The Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute (CHCI) has announced recent additions to its 2014 CHCI Advisory Council, adding dedicated national leaders committed to the organization's mission of developing the next generation of Latino leaders.

CHCI is pleased to welcome its newest 2014 Advisory Council members:

Joedis Avila, Ford Motor Company Fund
J. Robert Carr , Society of Human Resource Management (SHRM)
Joan Gillman, Time Warner Cable
Chris Ornelas , National Association of Broadcasters

"We are very pleased to have such a distinguished and talented group of professionals join our advisory council to help guide CHCI forward," said Esther Aguilera, CHCI President & CEO. "With the Latino population positioned to determine the future success of America, it is critical that we leverage dynamic partnerships to support the aspirations of Latino youth to succeed through education, leadership development, and convening the most powerful network of Latino and national leaders."
