

GALita presents Rigoberta, ¿Dónde Estás?

Culture 2020-03-10 21:03:39

Washington, D.C. – GALita a program of GALA for the entire family, is proud to present Rigoberta, ¿Dónde Estás? by Cornelia Cody. Commissioned by GALA and directed by Ms. Cody, this bilingual production will be presented at GALA Theatre, 3333 14th Street NW, Washington, DC 20010 from March 14 through March 28, 2020. The theater is located one block north of the Columbia Heights Metro station on the Green and Yellow lines. Parking is available at the Giant Food garage on Park Road NW.

Through the story of 10-year old Pilar, GALita's production of Rigoberta introduces young audiences to Rigoberta Menchú, the Guatemalan Nobel Peace Prize winner and indigenous activist. As she journeys from Piedras Negras to Guatemala City to meet her idol Rigoberta and ask her a question, she meets her countrymen and learns about their cultures, history, and traditions. More importantly, Pilar discovers that the questions she asks of herself are more important than those she asks of others.

Playwright Cornelia Cody states, "Ultimately, my play is about the questions we ask ourselves---the questions we need to ask ourselves---as we journey through life. I hope audiences will learn something about Rigoberta Menchú and about the incredible country of Guatemala. And I hope they too will begin to formulate and ask their own questions."

Student matinees for Rigoberta are scheduled weekdays from March 16 – 20 and March 23 - 27, 2020 at 10:30 am. Performances for the general public are on Saturday, March 14; Saturday, March 21; and Saturday, March 28 at 3 pm. The duration of this family show is approximately 55 minutes and is suitable for ages 5 through 105!

ABOUT RIGOBERTA MENCHÚ

Rigoberta Menchú was born on January 9, 1959 to a family of peasants. Raised in the Quiche branch of Mayan culture, she worked with her family on farms on the Pacific coast of Guatemala, where the largest coffee plantations are located. These plantations were, and still are, owned by Guatemala's wealthiest families who had a close relationship with the United Fruit Company. Because Inequality in Guatemala was heavily racialized, it served as an impetus for Rigoberta's father to organize with the Committee of the Peasant Union (CUC), a labor rights organization primarily for Indigenous farmers. His work with the CUC was deemed "subversive" and he was arrested, tortured, and murdered by government forces. Committed to the movement, Rigoberta joined the CUC in 1979 and quickly became one of the few women in the political movement.

In addition to her father, her mother and brother were also murdered by government forces during the Guatemalan Civil War, which claimed hundreds of thousands of lives. The majority of those killed were ethnic Mayas. In 1981, Rigoberta fled her country, and with the publication of her memoir, I, Rigoberta Menchú, she became an international icon for peace and equality. She was awarded the 1992 Nobel Peace Prize for her advocacy of Indigenous rights. Since then, Rigoberta founded Guatemala's first political party for Indigenous people, Winaq, and ran for president in 2007 and 2011.
